

Tucson Wildlife Center

Lead Wildlife Rehabilitator Opening

Established in 1998, Tucson Wildlife Center is a fully functioning wildlife hospital with full time veterinarians, vet techs, triage, radiology, surgery, raptor ICU, large mammal ICU, small bird and mammal ICU, isolation, orphanage, 15 acres of land with rehabilitation enclosures, 3-5,000 animals/year, 31 employees, 65 volunteers and rescue and release teams. We are recruiting for a full time CWR certified Wildlife Rehabilitator to oversee all aspects of animal rescue, rehabilitation, and return to the wild.

Salary range $60,000-$100,000 DOE
Please send a cover letter and a CV to Anna Maiden, Cornerstone HR Consulting maidenanna@gmail.com

Tucson Wildlife Center is located in Tucson, Arizona. Surrounded by four unique mountain ranges, with endless opportunities for outdoor exploration and considered a desert oasis. Tucson is widely considered one of the world's best destinations for activities such as hiking, cycling, rock climbing, horseback riding, and just about anything else you would want to do outdoors. Also known for its diverse wildlife species, rich cultural traditions, a vibrant arts scene, and great dining, Tucson is the first city in the United States designated as a UNESCO Creative City of Gastronomy.

